An increase in the indemnity rate for registered cattle was also proposed. Bozeman, Mt. — The American Simmental Association Board of Trustees took action in Denver, Colorado, to change the name of its Brahmanal registry to the SIMBRAH registry. The breed of cattle with SimmentalX-Brahman blood registered with the A.S.A. previously known as Brahmanal will now be known as SIMBRAH. The action was taken as a result of settlement of a lawsuit recently approved in a Texas State Court. The A.S.A. office in Bozeman, Montana, will send to each owner of SimmentalX-Brahman cattle registered in the A.S.A. Herdbook a letter setting forth the procedure of transition. There will be no fee to the owner of the animal for the change.

Consumers Reject Ungraded Beef

Results of the survey have been submitted to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, along with a statement from the Meat Board that USDA's recent proposal regarding the labeling of ungraded beef would cause a great deal of confusion for consumers.

"Our Board of Directors felt the Meat Board, on the basis of its 56 years of experience in consumer marketing, should comment to USDA on the potential limitations and dangers of this labeling proposal," said John L. Huston, Meat Board Vice President.

The Beef Industry Council survey volume indicated 2.00 higher trend. Field work major preoccupation of Nebraska feeders right now. was taken among consumers residing in the Chicago metropolitan area. Interviews were conducted by Barlow Research, Inc. of Chicago.

Among the findings: Nine out of ten consumers rejected the idea of eating beef labeled "USDA Ungraded," preferring other grades, including "Good" or "Standard," instead.

One-half of the consumers concluded that beef labeled "Ungraded" would also be "uninspected."

Consumers' interpretation of the "Ungraded" label carried overwhelmingly negative connotations, with most assuming it would be of inferior quality, if not actually unsafe for human consumption.

NEWS about LIMOUSIN

Around The Limo Loop

By KEN HOLLOWAY and BRUCE BROOKS

My, how time flies when you're having fun... and that is exactly what this 1978 Spring Sale has been - fast and fun! You know, it's been a pleasure to go to a weekend Limousin Sale and people bid with a smile! Hope the present trend in the cow market is an indication of several great years to come, and we think it will.

Just to prove our point, this spring American Cattle Services, Inc., has sold over 400 Limousin bulls for an average in excess of $1800. We think this proves beyond a doubt that the cowman has learned a hard lesson and is now choosing a bull that will add more frame and muscle structure resulting in more pounds across the scales.

Not only the bull market has been strong; however, the demand for good percentage Limousin females has been great. Just this past weekend at the Texas Limousin Sale, owned by Floyd and Folly McGown and under the management of Allen Arlison, the demand for Limousin in all percentages was very strong. 1 Purebred bull sold for $5000; 2-7/8 females with 15/16 bull calves totalled $3750, averaged $1875; 2 bred 7/8 totalled $2725 averaged $1362; 39 open 7/8 totalled $47,080 averaged $1208; 17 percentage bulls totalled $19,145 averaged $1126; 25 3/4 cows with 7/8 calves totalled $30,525 averaged $1221; 7 bred 3/4 cows totalled $1581, 7 bred 3/4 cows totalled $1581 for an average of $2260; making a grand total of 93 lots selling for $123,200 for an average of $1329.

Of course, we have had the pleasure of witnessing many exciting Limousin sales this spring and are currently booking an eventful group of production sales for this fall. At the risk of being repetitious we encourage you as a progressive cowman, to take a long look at your current program. Now is the time to look for that herd bull to improve the performance of your calves, as well as the time to salvage those old cows and replace them with younger, more productive females.

We salute you as breeders for displaying such outstanding offerings of Limousin cattle this spring and extend our congratulations to the sale manager, Allen Arlison, and his staff. The firm was well run and the way... don't forget to bring a friend!

Brown said the Texas Limousin Assn. wishes to increase participation in these shows, and now is the time to let children, parents, county agents and FFA teachers know about the junior shows.

Eligibility to enter the show includes the following rules: For the Dallas show a boy or girl must own and have papers transferred in the NALF office by July 1, 1978. For the Fort Worth and San Antonio shows, the deadline is Nov. 1, 1978. This means the heifer should be bought at least two weeks prior to the deadline, and papers sent immediately to the NALF office with a note attached so the office can give them special attention, Brown said.

Show heifers must be at least 87 percent Limousin and born after Jan. 1, 1977, and be solid red in color. Grand champions will receive $150 and reserve champions $75 in premium money in addition to class winnings. These heifers can be entered in the Houston Stock Show and sold in the Houston Limousin Sale.

There will also be a National Limousin Junior Heifer Show at the American Royal Stock Show in November 1978.

For further information on the shows in Texas, contact Bob Brown, Quannah, Texas 79252, phone 817/889-4466. For more information on the National show contact the North American Limousin Foundation.

Our Girl Friday . . .

By ANN SYLER

We awoke this morning to very blue, sunny, cloudless weather and a few rain drops falling here and there. The news that it is raining in South Texas, and quite good rains in most areas (I can believe what the weatherman says). So many of these places have not had rain at all for 15 to 16 months, so it will take an awful lot to do them much good — but I'll bet one thing — the weatherman on TV down in the country would not dare say "but it's going to mess up our week-end" as is usually their comment on the stations we watch.

Most of you have been in the Brangus business and a number of years and personally know Mrs. Emma Matney. Some of you newer breeders have not had that pleasure. She was Office Manager of the International Association the whole time the office was in Kansas City and came to Texas for the first year when the office moved to help get everything organized and started down here. Her dedication to the office and the breed was truly beyond compare — and isn't it just like her to be the first person to make a donation to the newly established Scholarship Fund? The Brangus Auxiliary recognized at their meeting in Tucson several honorary members for the first time — they were Mrs. Bob Wright, Mrs. Carolyn Sirianni, Mrs. Emma Shook and Mrs. Matney. It was during this meeting that Mrs. Matney called to express her thanks and to contribute $25.00.

Tonight, I must watch "Welcome Back, Kotter", a show that up until this time I have never seen. But I had a call yesterday from a lady who asked if I was the Ann Syler that at one time taught dancing lessons in Giddings, as well as several other towns — well, yes I am that same person. Then she said her young daughter took from me, later the family moved to Houston and the girl continued her ballet lessons, then went into little theatre work and acting school, etc. — and she will tonight be featured on the above-mentioned show — as a go-go dancer! And they especially wanted to get in touch with me to let me know. She said what they all remember most, naturally, is the fact that I was so very large pregnant the whole time she was in Giddings. I was a second son, Jeb, was born just two weeks after the year end recital.

My goodness, how fantastically good all of our Brangus sales have been this spring! See all the sale reports in this section this week — and join us on Saturday, May 20th, at San Marcos for Krist Hubert's Annual Production Sale at Hays County Civic Center. He will be selling, among other lots, three special lots, an interest in Durst's Sombrero 1/3, the newest of the 100% Golden Certified Most Sires; semen right in BC Oscar 382/5, and semen from "General" (with 2 breeding certificates for each 3 ampules of General semen). Don't miss out on this!

Yellow Rose Brangus Average $1267 May 13

Waxahachie, Texas — The 7th annual Yellow Rose of Texas Brangus Sale sponsored by the Pines & Plains Brangus Breeders Assn. here May 13, had a gross of $84,825 on 61 lots to average $1267. Sale committee was Jim Eller, Chairman, Gary Cross, Glen Richardson and J. F. "Curly" Taylor. Paul Sharpe is president, and Wanda Britton, secretary of the association.

The sale was managed by Syler Sales Management, Inc. Two bulls sold for $3800 for a $1750 average, with one consigned by Bill McFarbridge, Whitehouse, going for $2000 to Jim Donahue, Durant, Kan.; and the other consigned by Gates & Teresa Compton's Future Cattle Co., Overton, going for $1800 to Heritage Land & Cattle Co., Covington, Ky.

Nine bred heifers grossed $14,780 to average $1640; six bred cows $8450 to

The Circle Seven Commercial Brangus Bull.

Why do you think so many cowmen have been buying him?

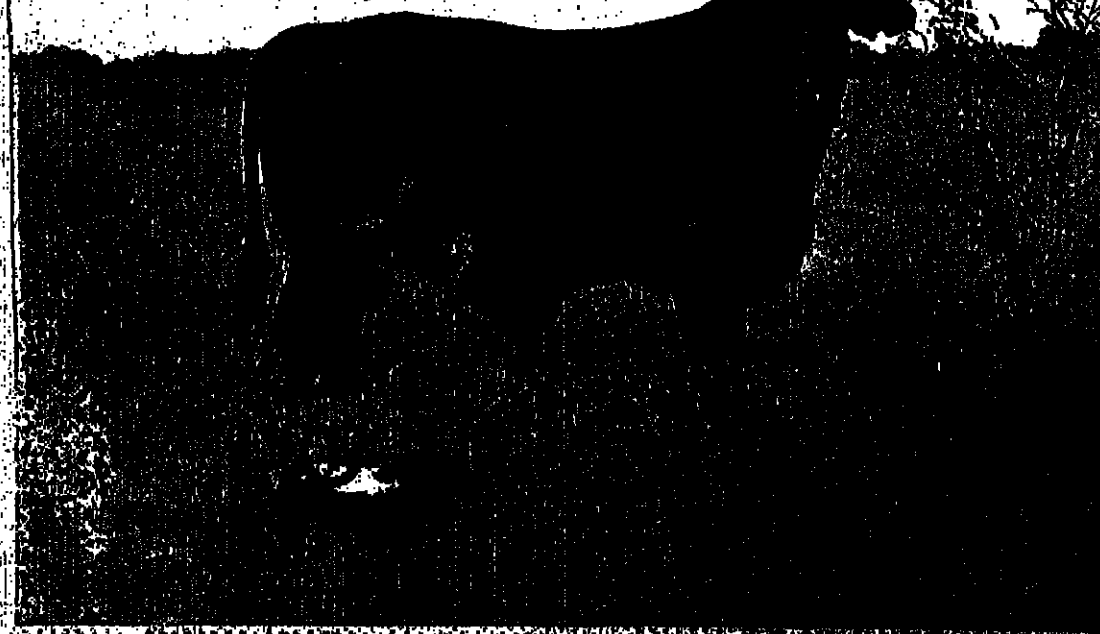

Like all other types of businessmen, it is necessary that a cowman make daily decisions affecting his operation. He must project his needs for the future and select the methods of management that will keep him in the black. A good cowman plans and chooses carefully. He knows the importance of getting a strong, healthy investment in his cattle. He can't take chances; not on the nutrition of his cattle, and not on his bulls.

Circle Seven takes out the guess work involved with buying commercial bulls. Each and every bull produced by Circle Seven is performance tested. The data is assembled for the buyer and each bull that leaves the ranch is guaranteed to be a sound breeder.

More and more cattlemen are switching to Circle Seven bred Brangus bulls. The fact is, last year more than 430 head went into commercial herds in 5 states. These cattlemen not only like the quality, they like the Quality in Quantity at Competitive Prices.

Breeding Soundness Of Bulls — Cattlemen should have their herd bulls evaluated for breeding soundness 30 to 60 days prior to each breeding season, advises a livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This includes a physical evaluation, serial size measurement and semen evaluation by a veterinarian. Bulls should also be observed with cows in heat to determine that they have the desire and ability to mate successfully.

BRANGUS
The Ideal Mother.

There's just one reason you need Brangus cows working for you — PROFIT! Brangus is America's number one brood cow, because she consistently produces calves that are in great demand by stockers, feeders, packers, and consumers. And this means consistent profit for you!

Brangus females mature early, calving as 2-year-olds with no problems, and they give a 20% to 40% longer productive life. They are excellent milk producers and their calves gain faster, wean heavier, and do better than calves of other breeds. With Brangus females, you eliminate sunburned teats, sore eyes, and other disease and pest-related problems.

Only animals with a 3/8 Brahman-5/8 Angus heritage are true Brangus, for only this combination gives animals with the hardiness, adaptability, and high production that is consistently characteristic of the Brangus breed. If you want PROFIT, you need BRANGUS!

The Santa Circuit

By BUDDY SMITH
Well, May has been a busy month, and it's a long way from being over. We're scuttin' on down I-36 on our way to Tulsa. Buddy is driving and I'm writing. We're headed for the Santa Gertrudis College of Knowledge and the Spring Opportunity Sale. I'll wait until Saturday to finish this master piece — I know you'll want a report on the College and the results of the sale.

The stupendous organizational efforts that went into the Santa Gertrudis Second World Congress, Sao Paulo, Brazil, were more than justified by a resounding success story for its participants. Demand was strong, and the commercial aspect. Buddy Smith and Joe Marchman headed the panel type presentation.

Grand champion bull was shown by Bobby Shelton's Los Jabonillos Ranch, and the reserve grand champion female was shown by Chaparral Ranch. Grand champion female was a native Brazilian animal.

Dick Veasler celebrated a birthday on the return flight from Brazil. I understand Mrs. Louise Briggs started something when she gave Dick a birthday kiss. In fact, Dick was still at 45,000 feet when the plane landed. I'm not saying what birthday Dick celebrated, but just remember what they say on TV, Dick, "you're not getting older, you're getting better."

We just hit Oklahoma! I guess we'll be in good shape if the CB and the Fuzz-buster hold out until we reach Tulsa. Buddy only knows one speed, and it ain't slow.

Don't forget the Doyle May second annual Santa Gertrudis Sale, but there's nothing "dried" up about the response and enthusiasm for this sale. Perhaps this enthusiasm stems from the fact that Mr. May is offering a large number of quality range-conditioned Santa Gertrudis, featuring three-in-one packages. You can't beat South Texas hospitality and that's exactly what Mr. May is offering on May 25, from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., at the Drummers Inn, South Texas Hospitality! The sale starts at 1 p.m. on May 25.

26th Premier Santa Gertrudis Sale At Winrock, May 20

Morrilton, Ark. — The 26th Annual Premier Santa Gertrudis Spring Sale will be held at Winrock Farms, May 20, 1978. The sale will feature some of the best quality young females ever assembled by Santa Gertrudis breeders for display and sale to the Midwest and Midsouth markets.

Papa Makes A Difference, Too!

A big, red, classified "S" Santa Gertrudis bull. He can get you back in the habit of making money in the cattle business.

By siring healthy, fast-gaining calves that will be almost as big as their commercial mamas at weaning time. Calves that can go straight into the feedlot and keep growing.

And Santa Gertrudis bulls can give you predictable results in a crossbreeding program. For the commercial cowman, this means greater profits. Santa Gertrudis produce small calves at birth, heavier weaning and yearling weights, gainability, carcass acceptability, and more milk production.

SANTA GERTRUDIS, the breed developed by cattlemen for a reason.

Sponsors for the 1978 Western Heritage Sale are pleased with the increased interest in the event. Pictured from left to right are Joe Marchman, Plano, Texas; John B. Connally, Houston, Texas; Rex Cause, Denton, Texas; Louis Pearce, Houston, Texas; and John Justin, Ft. Worth. The National Cowboy Hall of Fame has also joined the group as a 1978 sponsor.

Western Heritage Sale Will Present Exceptional Selection of Cattle, Quarter Horses, Art on July 15th

Last year's Western Heritage Sale met all expectations when a sell-out crowd enjoyed the glamour and festivities of the elegant affair and purchased over $500,000 worth of Santa Gertrudis cattle, Quarter Horses and contemporary Western art. Working diligently to make this year's event even more spectacular and to break existing sales records, sponsors of the 1978 Western Heritage Sale feel that the selection to be offered will top anything ever assembled and sold at one location.

The 1978 gala evening is scheduled for July 15th at Houston's Shamrock Hilton Hotel. Both the Santa Gertrudis cattle and Quarter Horses will be housed on the front lawn of the hotel in gaily striped tents for three days prior to the sale, while the Western art will be displayed inside. On the evening of the sale, both animals and art will be brought into the Grand Ballroom where they will be auctioned during the black-tie dinner and festivities.

Approximately 1,100 persons will attend the by-invitation-only affair, and sponsors report that interest is greatly increased over last year. They expect seats to be completely sold out by early June.

National Cowboy Hall of Fame. The Western Heritage Sale is a non-profit organization, and all sponsors serve without pay including Marchman who is responsible for the coordination and mechanics of the entire event.

During the auction Gov. Connally will do the commentary on the Santa Gertrudis and Western art. Pearce will provide the information on the Quarter Horses, and Internationally known auctioneer, Gerald Bowie, will handle the bidding.

Cattle connoisseurs will find that they will be able to select bulls, heifers and pairs from some of the top Santa Gertrudis bloodlines including some outstanding show and herd prospect cattle consignors are the King Ranch, Connally Ranches, Joe Marchman Ranches, El Colina Ranches, Briggs Ranch, May Ranch, Superior Land & Cattle Co., Simon Peter Bend Ranch, Doug Fain Ranches, Oak Valley Ranch, Winrock Farms, Cosgrove Ranches, La Paloma Ranch, Diamond S Ranch, Los Jabonillos Ranch, Bar B W, Longfellow Ranch, Porter Rodgers Farms, Western Farm & Cattle Co., Lazy A Ranch and Strif Farms.

Whether it's halter or performance, Quarter Horse enthusiasts will have the opportunity to buy a choice selection of twenty-one mares out of many of the industry's leading sires and bloodlines. Consignors include some of the best known ranching families in the country. They are the King Ranch, Connally Ranches, Spanish Creek Ranch, Oak Tree Ranch, 6666 Ranch, Brink's Ranches, Phillips Ranch, Freeman Quarter Horse Ranch, Cauble Ranches, McDermott Ranch, Mill Creek Farm, Scharbauer Cattle Co., R. A. Brown Ranch, Debrock Farms, Square Top 3 Ranches, Randals Ranch, Windhill Farm, R S Bar Ranch, Dr. Pat Nicosia Quarter Horses, W. T. Waggoner Estate and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Mussalem.

With the inclusion of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame as a 1978 sponsor of the Western Heritage Sale, Western art lovers and collectors will see as fine a representation of paintings and sculptures ever assembled anywhere. Through the Hall's help and direction the sale of the finest contemporary Western artists will be represented, and 28 pieces will be sold at auction. Other pieces by the artists will be sold in an art sale held in conjunction with the main event. Among the artists represented are Jim Reno, Gordon Snidow, Melvin Warren, Conrad Schwiering, Richard Greaves, Wilson Hurley, Morris Rippel, Clark Bronson, John Clymer, Valoy Eaton and Edward Fraughton. There will also be works by Kenneth P. Riley, Harley Brown, Rod Goebel, Ned Jacobs, James Kramer, Nick Eggenhofer, Ned Jacobs, Frank Tauriello, Lajos Markos, Robert Summers, William Whitaker, George Carlson, Duane Bryers and Robert Kuhn.

Bidding is expected to be heavy in all three categories of this year's sale, and to have the high purchaser of an individual item in each category, sponsors will present these three persons with original Western Heritage Sale buckles, designed and cast by well-known sculptor Jim Reno.

Many celebrities and notable guests are expected to attend this year, and national press coverage is again anticipated. Sponsors feel that this attendance and notoriety are due to the uniqueness of the event, and they may be right. As one New York tourist put it last year, "I came to Houston on vacation, but haven't even left the hotel. This is better than anything I could hope to see anywhere else!"

BBU Board Announces Record 1977 Revenues

The Board of Directors of Beefmaster Breeders Universal announced that association revenues reached a new high in the 1977 fiscal year ending October 31, 1977. A record $267,825.16 in income, up eight percent from 1976, was received by the Beefmaster organization.

Meeting in Houston on February 23-24, the board reviewed the financial statement of the international association and declared it in very good health. One Kuykendall, BBU Executive Vice President, said the increased income was due to an increase in membership, cattle registrations and transfers and commissions from approved and recommended Beefmaster sales. Kuykendall stated, "Our growth is due to the popularity of the Beefmaster breed and the support of our members. Our cattle are selling for higher than they ever have and that's in a depressed market. This is due to our intensive promotional efforts, the improvement of the breed through our classification and approved sale programs and most of all, the soundness of the Beefmaster breed itself."

In other business a committee was appointed by BBU president, Gene Thompson, to assist in establishing a satellite Beefmaster association in Monterrey, Mexico. Thompson said that there were approximately 25 Beefmaster breeders in that area and that Mexico has been and will continue to be an excellent market for Beefmaster cattle.

Windy Ryon Memorial Roping June 3 & 4

Plans have been announced for the annual Windy Ryon Memorial Roping to benefit the American Heart Association. The invitation-only event is set for Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4, 1:30 p.m., "rain or shine", at the Windy Ryon Memorial Arena, intersection of Loop 820 and Highway 287, just north of Fort Worth, Texas.

Top roping from across the nation will complete in calf roping on Saturday and steer roping on Sunday. Featured on Saturday will be a $2,500 matched roping — winter take all — between Phil Lyns and Gary Ledford. Texas-style barbecue and refreshments will be available on the grounds.

Staged in the memory of Don J. "Windy" Ryon, the roping has raised over $50,000 for the American Heart Association over the past four years. Ryon was well known in rodeo circles and in the western retailing industry. He died of a heart attack in 1973.

For more information, contact the Windy Ryon Memorial Roping, 6888 Camp Bowie Blvd., #415, Fort Worth, Texas 76116, phone 817/738-6526. Tickets will also be available at the gate.

Golden Eagle Is Lamb, Kid Killer Postings indicate

First the photos, now the postings. Things are not going so well for the golden eagle, nor for those who continue to insist on his pristine innocence. Autopsies are nothing new — there's a lot of them.

"We (BBU) plan to continue our campaign to promote the breed in the United States and throughout the world and establishing satellite organizations is an excellent way to do this," he concluded.

The board also approved some preliminary plans for the 1978 BBU Convention. The event will take place in Dallas, November 1-4 at the LaSalle Hotel with former Cowboy Inebacker Lee Roy Jordan acting as convention chairman. The annual Lone Star Beefmaster Association Consignment Sale will be held in conjunction with the convention. The sale is scheduled for Saturday, November 4, at the Rex Gaudin Facility near Denton, Texas. More information on the Convention and Sale will be available later.

University of Montana researcher Dr. Bart O'Gara recently completed the first in hopefully a series of postings around the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association's Operation Dead Lamb. The autopsies were performed on 55 lambs and kids whose deaths were suspected of being caused by golden eagles.

Dr. O'Gara, a noted authority on predation and, more precisely, golden eagle predation, found that 15 of the 55 deaths were definitely attributable to eagles. An additional 21 specimens were probably eagle kills, and three more were eaten by eagles but most likely killed by something else.

Dr. O'Gara was assisted by Drs. Charles Livingston and Dale Wada, veterinarian and predator specialist, respectively, at the San Angelo Research and Extension Center. They are expected to conduct future postings under the Dead Lamb program.

Various items of evidence combined to identify the eagle kills. Probably the most damning of all the indicators was the presence of capillary bleeding around talon punctures. Such bleeding or hemorrhaging cannot occur after the victim's heart ceases pumping. It is, consequently, positive evidence that the victim was alive when the punctures were made.

Talon punctures, themselves, says O'Gara, are probably adequate evidence that the victim was alive when the eagle encountered it. In his experience with both wild and captive eagles he has learned that the birds seldom if ever stab a dead meal. Deep talon punctures are used to kill, not hold, he explains. Indeed, he has seen eagles eat such helpless prey as chickens alive, without bothering to stab them first; even eagle fanciers admit that the bird, like most predators, is inherently lazy, so why should it bother stabbing helpless prey, much less prey that is already dead?

O'Gara's determinations, however, were not based on the evidence of talon punctures alone. He conducted his investigation, he says, "conservatively," giving the eagle the benefit of the doubt in all cases where conclusive evidence was not apparent. He chose to consider circumstantial cases as "probably" or "possibly not," rather than make assumptions that would surely be challenged after the fact.

Still, the challenges are coming, at least the groundwork is being laid. In fact, the groundwork was being laid before the postings ever began. One eagle fancier suggested, in a letter received only hours after the postings were completed, that O'Gara take bone marrow samplings to determine whether the victims were healthy at the time of death. The fact that no such samples were taken leaves the study open to charges that the lambs and kids were unhealthy and therefore easier prey or destined to die anyway, a favorite theme of protectionists.

Realistic students of nature agree that such claims are based on the most obvious of fallacies — that predators only attack the weak or sick. This belief is based on observations that, for instance, wolves attack the weakest deer, buffalo, cow or whatever. In such cases, the predator is the smaller of the two, and needs the advantage. In the case of the eagle and the lamb, no such advantage is needed. After all, says O'Gara, a bird that can catch a West Jacob rabbit or bring down a mature mule deer can almost sleep his way through killing the healthiest of sheep or goats.

most damning of all the indicators was the presence of capillary bleeding around talon punctures. Such bleeding or hemorrhaging cannot occur after the victim's heart ceases pumping. It is, consequently, positive evidence that the victim was alive when the punctures were made.

AMERICAN RED BRANGUS ASSOCIATION NEWS

By John Sosnowy
Thanks to the 17 progressive Red Brangus breeders who have nominated a heifer for the first ARBA Superior Quality Red Brangus Heifer Futurity to be held in December. With these 17, the possibility of a few late entries, since press deadline, we are confident of a great sale.

All active Red Brangus breeders and especially those with entries in the Futurity will want to start planning maximum personal benefit from the Red Brangus feature issue of the Cattlemen Magazine in November and our sale advertising in other publications as well.

Within the next 80 days you will be receiving information on advertising costs for individual as well as co-op ads. It will maximize your returns on dollars invested to reserve space early and get priority as to location in the publications.

Don't underestimate the power of good advertising. As an example, what comes to your mind when you write the word Mustang... car or horse? If I'd asked you that question 20 years ago, the answer would have been unanimously a horse. That's what good advertising can do. Red Brangus cattle are beginning to break loose on the purebred cattle scene, just like the Mustang car did in the automobile business years ago.

Malcolm Levi had a great business 30 years ago—produced calves with more growthiness than the English breeds while retaining their good beef characteristics, produced a live calf every year (small at birth), produced a polled animal (removes those horns naturally), produced a cow that will first calve unassisted at 2 and continue regularly until age 15 or 16; averaged of 10, produced an animal more disease resistant than the English breed with no pinkeye problem, etc., and keep that red color that the majority of cattlemen worldwide prefer. And Malcolm Levi, along with his son Mike and several others, did exactly what they set out to

Presidio Rancher Gets Texas' Second 1978 Screwworm Case

The year's second lab confirmed Texas screwworm sample was collected in Presidio County May 6 and identified May 8, says Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., the director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Screwworm Eradication Program. Says Hayes Mitchell of Mitchell Cattle Co. collected the screwworm larvae. They came from an infested calf navel 20 miles southwest of Marfa. On April 21 the year's first Texas case was collected about 45 miles east of El Paso in Rudolph County. It came from a horse.

Endangered Species Act Could Prevent National Development

Washington — "If enforced to its limit, the Endangered Species Act could halt national growth and development in America," a spokesman for three major livestock organizations warned Congressional committees recently.

A provision in this law states, in effect, that "all other federal goals and purposes of the Endangered Species Act" it was pointed out in a joint statement by the National Cattlemen's Assn., National Wool Growers Assn., and the Public Lands Council.

"When it is considered that this Act has the potential of listing as 'endangered' hundreds of thousands of animal and plant species, it is no exaggeration to suggest that the Endangered Species Act could wreak havoc and delays involving hundreds of programs," Ronald A. Micheli of NCA's and PLG's Washington staff told House and Senate subcommittees holding hearings on the program. The Act "could not only bring federal actions to a grinding halt but cause suspension of thousands of private projects. The Act extends to virtually every aspect of life in the U.S. It applies not just to federal actions but to private activities such as farming, hunting, purchasing, businesses, etc.," Micheli said.

"As presently written, this law does not provide a method of integrating its mandates with the goals of other laws and with national goals for optimum food, fiber and energy growth," the livestock spokesman charged. "Implementation of the Endangered Species Act is plunging ahead without adequate consideration for anything other than a single-minded purpose to preserve species, including those species for which there are little, or no, sound scientific data on which to conclude they are 'endangered'."

There are no provisions in the law for the evaluation of the "cost-effectiveness" of species preservation programs," he said. "No assessment of the economic consequences of this program is made. There is no consideration of the alternative land and resource uses which might be lost if certain actions are taken under this program."

Micheli singled out the section of the act for "interagency cooperation," stating that the cooperation in it was strictly "one-way." That section, he said, is "incredibly far-reaching," means that no matter what the federal government does, first consideration must be given to the preservation of endangered and threatened species. All federal agencies are required to evaluate their actions... and utilize their authorities to preserve designated species. Agencies can do nothing that might infringe on a designated species or habitat. The Endangered Species program comes first and foremost."

The livestock industry spokesman said that "the Endangered Species program truly is the super federal program to which all other programs must pay homage."

The Act allows the Secretary of Interior to halt activities "which might even marginally affect a listed species habitat," he said. "It already is having a large impact on the management of public lands and its potential infringement upon an individual's private property rights is practically unlimited."

Despite its "tremendous potential impact," he continued, the Act does not adequately define many of its key terms such as "endangered," "threatened," and "critical habitat." Micholli charged that the program does not require any objective criteria for determining whether a species is endangered. "There is no systematic evaluation of assembled data. When a species is nominated for listing, little detail is provided on the habitat, population, and characteristics of the species involved. "The listing is based on subjective, 'best-guess' opinion of some biologists or botanists. Without objective criteria, how can anyone challenge the accuracy or validity of the designation?" he asked.

Texas Jr. Hereford Field Day At East Texas State

Commerce, Texas - Thursday, June 15, has been scheduled as the date of the 1978 Texas Junior Hereford Association sponsored field day to be held at East Texas State University, Commerce. An informative, educational, and entertaining program of interest to youths as well as registered and commercial producers of all breeds is planned beginning at 8 a.m., three miles south of Commerce on Highway 50.

A new dimension in the judging contest planned during the morning session will be a live animal evaluation and join-eyes contest allowing participants to test their skills in estimating several carcass traits. Numerous awards in recognition of top judging skills will be available to junior, senior, and adult individuals. Prizes will also award a scholarship to the highest scoring TJHA member judge.

Also on tap are workshop discussions including show prospect selection, selection of breeding cattle, and showmanship.

The general public is invited to attend. It seems that nowadays you've got to do something wrong to have any rights.

Kimbell MEDICATED FEEDS ARE MONEY MAKERS

It goes without saying that no program or type of feed can guarantee a profit on a particular set of livestock. However, it is possible to guarantee that with proper management a feeding program will make livestock more valuable — better money makers.

KIMBELL Medicated Feeds Are Designed to Improve Animal Health and Balance Nutrition

This type of program improves the appearance, gives livestock the "good doing" look — this convinces your buyers they are "worth more."

This type of program actually makes your livestock "do better" — not of disease and parasites adds pounds — they are "worth more."

Export Credit Opens Way for More Polled Herefords to Chile

Kansas City - The U.S. Department of Agriculture's approval of commercial export credits to farmers and ranchers in Chile opens the way for the fourth large-scale purchase of $3-million worth of Polled Hereford beef cattle from American ranchers in 10 years.

The Commodity Credit Corp., a private corporation run by the USDA, has approved the huge cattle loan request negotiated by the American Polled Hereford Association as a part of its foreign marketing development program.

This will result in the purchase of some 4,000 commercial Polled Hereford heifer calves for export to Chile. The purchase is part of a $3-million loan package by the Commodity Credit Corp. same from Kelly M. Harrison, general sales manager of USDA's Commercial Export Programs in Washington, D.C. The loan was approved for a three-year term, but negotiations are underway to extend this to a seven-year term for the cattle purchase loan portion.

Hereford Bulls Sold Strongly in April

Kansas City - The month of April was a banner month for Hereford bull sales. The demand was high - the $5,519,490 was paid for 10,300 bulls offered in production and conignment sales all across the nation. Figures from the American Hereford Association headquarters in Kansas City reveal that the great dollars paid, and the number of bulls sold, to be the highest for an April in the 27-year history of the organization. The 2,051 bulls sold averaged 1,101 lbs head, the highest weight in the past four years.

At Lone Star Services Co. According to a recent survey, money lenders in Texas are serving more farmers and ranchers, and the average loan amount has increased. Interest rates also appear to be leveling off. The demand for short term loans was up, including an increase in operating loans. Lenders expected farm and ranch loans to be lower through 1978, and they also reported an increase in the demand for financing farm equipment.
